I never really got to know Tuck I believe the last time I seen him was grannies funeral. My family and I send our prayers for you all in this time of sorrow.

Although I never remember meeting my great uncle Tuck. I can only imagine just how amazing he was. Please know that my thoughts and prayers are with all of y'all. May the memories of him last a lifetime. To be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord. There must be an amazing Webb family reunion going on up there in heaven. I bet they are singing and dancing.

My uncle Tuck. He was one of my favorites out of the 16 kids granny had. He was the brother to my mom, Maxine. I am her oldest. I remember visiting him and his wife Dean & boys several times while they lived in Carpentersville. My mom, dad, Dean and Tuck would stay up many late nights playing canasta laughing. I never understood that game.

I remember waking up while visiting them and Tuck sitting at the end of the table, face down while eating his breakfast. His wife Dean would pass out because of a tapeworm that no one knew about at the time. Here she would be laying out on the floor and we would be panicking and Tuck just kept his face down and kept on eating and would say to us, aw just get on up here and eat, she'll be alright, she'll come to before you know it as if nothing ever happened. Bobby and Ronnie would be shaking their heads agreeing with Tuck.

My husband and I visited him in Pierce City the year before and we would have such great talks. Just about everything. Him growing up, places they lived, Dean and the boys and Connie and their husbands and wives. We'd just talk about everything. My mom was the first of all the kids to pass and after that I became pretty close with him. The last funny story he told me was about my dad. They had a few differences from music to what they liked watching on TV. He said, Sandy you know how I got Lester (my dad) to leave the room when I got tired of listening to him yap? No, how Tuck? He said, I would turn on wrestling cause he just hated it. I just laughed because my dad did hate wrestling because he never considered it a sport because it was just fake stuff to him.

Tuck I'm really going to miss you! But I know where you are and I would not want you to come back into this earthly realm with all it corruption, hatred, sickness, heartbreak and pain for anything. You enjoy that new body of yours, but most of all you get to see Jesus face to face and see your wife and kids that have gone before you. Seeing your mom and dad, brothers and sister. What joy! I'm so happy I was able to talk with you a couple of days before you closed your eyes for the last time and opened them in paradise.

I'll love you forever and look forward to seeing you again when my time comes.
