“ Never forgotten, still missed. No one can replace you or take your place. I'm back in your classroom for my senior year... Still feels odd that your not there anymore. Miss you. James Schad.

“ I have lots of memories of growing up with my brother. Cuddling up to watch Dark Shadows and Flipper after he came home from school, his reading to me and messing up the words to annoy me. Him teasing me calling me Chuck until I cried. Playing cowboys and indians with our cousins, and war with the neighborhood kids, teaching me to swim at the Y by throwing me and making me swim to him, but one thing sticks out when I look back... My brother was always looking out for me... when I hurt myself on the fence he bashed down the spiky things and covered them with duct tape so I couldn't get hurt again, when we moved he told me to just tell him if any kids picked on me... when I started driving he forfeited his souped up '72 Nova and even taught me to shift so I could drive it... When I wrecked it he found me a beautiful Skylark to replace it... Watching him parent I know he was so proud of both of his children. He was hard on them at times but that was always done with love behind it -- the lesson needed to be taught so they could be stronger more capable people. Watching he and Kathy together it was always clear they were in it for the long haul. They were a good team!

When I found out he had passed the bible verse that came to mind for me was Isaiah 40:31- But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength they shall mount up with wings like eagles they shall run and not grow weary they shall walk and not grow faint. It helped me to think about being Carl strong again. I will miss him.

you were indeed one of the best teachers ever! i didnt get to make it to your visitation because of work and im sorry for that. there are too many memories of you to even think about. i loved when we always locked you out of your room when you left and when students attempted to scare you when you came through the door. you always had fun activities in your classes and i could never wait to have fun conversations at the end of the day during 7th hour. you will most definitely be missed by my family and I.

“ Very sorry to read of the passing of your dear loved one Carl. Life is such a precious gift and yet so short-lived for the time we exist. We are comforted by the hope of the resurrection,.. God holds out this wonderful hope for all those in the grave. At John 11;25 Jesus said "I AM THE RESURRECTION AND THE LIFE. HE THAT EXERCISES FAITH IN ME, EVEN THOUGH HE DIES, WILL COME TO LIFE."
Mark 5-38-43) is one on the nine accounts of ones who were resurrected. How comforting to know these things from the Holy Scriptures. What a blessed reason to hope in God! (John 5-28,29) The gift of memories will bring you great joy and turn into a treasure.

You and yours will receive strength though prayer to God, you will feel comfort by the loving concern of your God-fearing friends, and you will be uplifted by studying God's Word.

“ I had Mr. Geyer for two of my high school years and he was by far one of the most enjoyable and memorable teachers. I remember his witty jokes and his phrases, like "silence is golden, let's get a little richer." He was such a caring person, with his door full of pictures of past students and his bulletin board covered in pictures of his grand daughter. He will truly be missed by so many and I hope all of our thoughts and prayers help carry his family through this difficult time.

“ I will always remember Mr. Geyer as one of my favorite high school teachers. He allowed students to be themselves with some blunt guidance from time to time. On our senior trip in 2001 he and his wife joined us and seemed to have as much fun as us! He will be truly missed and I send my condolences to his family.

“ I didn't know Carl on a personal level quite like everyone else here. I knew Carl through his wife Kathy. He was always kind and gentle and did what it took to keep her happy. He was always pleasant when he would come into the plant and stop by my cube to joke or whatever. Carl will truly be missed. Kathy I am keeping you and your family in my prayers.

“ I will always remember you making pancakes on Saturday morning when I spent the night with Christina. You always treated me just like one of your own. You allowed us girls to be girls and let us get away with just enough, then reeled us back in. You are loved by many and will be missed.

“ Hi Carl, I will always consider you my "brother". I remember the first time I met you; although very much a boy (17) you were so friendly, funny, and smart...you had a very casual and admired genuine personality. I also knew by the attentiveness and "ga-ga" gazes you were head over heels in love with the young woman, Kathy, who inevitably became your life's partner and wife. This world will miss you, your family and friends will miss you, I will miss you knowing you made this world a better place.

“ Carl and I met while working on our Masters. He was a funny man and a great teacher! He was my daughter's favorite. I loved giving him grief about his closet full of food and he loved giving me grief about certain mutual acquaintances. He will be missed more than words could ever say.
