“ Charles was a good man, he would tell me stories about he and my father, Francis. They grew up together and Charles never forgot him. This is something that has touched my heart over the years.

I was glad to see that he was home when he passed, with his family near.

There are many things that life gives to us, especially fond memories. I say to his family; he has gone to the better place and is at rest, in peace!

Charles, I hope and pray to see you in heaven! God bless the Veltens!
