“ Rose, our sympathy to you and family.

I was impressed after reading an article a few years ago in the Pierce City Paper dedicated to Mark's Military Career and his accomplishments. It began with him joining the (MOARNG) as a youngster. Later, enlisted in the Army, soon afterwards joining the Paratroopers, initially keeping it a secret from his dad, (chuckle) Without a doubt, many of the townsfolk read the story. Based upon the story, Mark knew what he wanted and eagerly pursued it, never looking back!

The article made me proud to have known the soldier behind the story. In a visit to his home several months ago while in Springfield I had the opportunity to tell him, he was my idol. Further, that I had told his story many times of a Pierce City Boy's success to include being a distinguished member of the "Golden Knights" !

He was a true Ambassador throughout the World for the U.S.A. and to think it all began with a Young Man from Pierce City, MO

A "Salute" to a "True Soldier" dedicated to his country! Thanks for your service Mark!

“ My best story of Uncle Mark is one that he told himself. Apparently there was a woman that jumped from his plane and was tangled up in her parachute. His telling is the best part, and I quote "There she was, a female girl, fat, dumb and happy falling to her death..." The lady managed to right herself and was fine in the end. I smile to myself every time I think of this story.

Other words he chose based on his background in the service always tickled me. His reference to dinner as 'chow' was always endearing.

Mark Strick you were one of those bigger than life men. You will be missed and remembered for a long, long time. Your niece, Jeanne “ *Blue skies Mark. You were one of my heroes on Charlie Harris' Gold Team in '69. Now Ray Garin and I are the last of that bunch. Very sad, but I have been always been grateful for the Golden Knight's experience. I learned a whole bunch from you real soldiers. Fair winds my friend...always...God speed..

“ Served with Mark on the US army Parachute Team, The Golden Knights during his 2d tour 68-69 , while on the HALO Committee and while he managed the Green Beret Sport Parachute Club. He was a person you knew was a professional soldier and would rise to the highest enlisted rank in the Army. After retirement we got together when he would come to Ft Bragg while attending the Rigger reunions, Special Forces Reunions and Golden Knight Alumni Association Reunions. We also met at a restaurant for lunch in Springfield, MO while Lucie and I were vacationing. He was a friend and I will miss him. God Speed, Mark.
